

Holiness In The Family

We live in a world of broken families. Divorce has taken its toll on the family unit as God designed it and husbands, wives, and children are tossed into conditions that bring unhappiness and enmity. Under these conditions, many people come to Christ and have set their hope on make decisions that will be blessed by God. Families are reunited, marriages are consummated, and children have the blessing of having parents that are committed to God and one another.

This study will teach us how to be families that God desires us to be. We will see how husbands are to treat wives and how wives are to treat husbands. We will see how children are to respect their parents. If what we learn from God's word regarding this subject is practiced, our families now and in the future will be blessed by God.

Husbands and wives relationships

According to Matthew 19:4-6, who instituted marriage and must therefore control it.

According to Ephesians 5:21-24, wives are to be as subject to their husbands as they are to whom? _____

What is the limitation on the husband's authority over the wife?(Acts 5:29)

Who gave man authority over the woman?(I Corinthians 11:3)_____

If a woman must submit to the authority of a man, would it not be extremely important that she choose a man who judgment she respects in all possible things? _____

What about marrying a man out of the faith? (II Corinthians 6:14) _____

Should a woman have a teaching or an authority position in the church over a man concerning spiritual things? I Timothy 2:12-14 _____

Were Paul's reasons for this based on local custom and will his reason ever change? _____

According to Ephesians 5:25, how much must a husband love his wife? _____

Should a man marry a woman he did not respect enough to die for? _____